

Walter Mackenzie breaks down the eight intelligences suggested by Dr. Howard Gardner and categorizes them into three domains that serve as an organizer for understanding the intelligences.

Professional Domains

Scope For Domains

Theoretical

It is the ability to transfer Knowledge/Experiences to other people such as Teaching & Training. Good communication skills.

Practical

It is the ability of doing field work or core job as subject matter experts. Good practical/application skills.

Executive

It is the ability of leading some Team/Organisation i.e Managerial or authoritative work. Good leadership & administrative skills.

"Learning How To Learn.... Is The Most Important Skill In Life"